LAW ENFORCEMENT PRINCIPLES WILL BE 'PLACED IN WRITING'

Meeting At Y. M. C. A. Discusses Questions Of Civic Duty

TROUP NAMED AS CHAIRMAN

Committee Will Draw Up Principles To Be Enunciated

At a meeting of representative citizens held at the railroad Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening a lengthy discussion was had on the importance of civic righteousness and law enforcement. It was finally resolved by those present that certain principles which were enunciated in the meeting should be reduced to writing for the consideration of all who are interested in the law observance.

The meeting went on record as opposed to its undertaking to name candidates for any office.

Judge L. P. Troup was appointed by R. L. Maury, who was chairman of the meeting, as a member of the committee charged with the responsibility of setting forth in writing the conclusions and wishes of the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Dr. James D. Hunter, who stated its object. Dr. Hunter stated the meeting was called "because of a deep religious concern" for the betterment of all classes and conditions, especially as regards the observance of law. The speaker commended those who were present as their presence showed they desired to reason together for the common good.

Dr. Hunter then turned the meeting over to those gathered soon after which a motion prevailed making R. L. Maury, chairman, and Judge L. P. Troup, secretary.

Addresses were made by C. J. Randolph, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., John P. Matlock, Judge Troup, T. E. Williams and others. A general discussion was engaged in, as to the relation of citizens to law enforcement and as to the relation and duties of officials to law enforcement. It was in connection with the grave responsibilities resting upon citizens and officers alike that the meeting decided to formulate certain principles of action looking to a more hearty observance of the laws.

Doctors Discuss New Cancer Cure

(Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 11—Announcement that a new chemical formula had cured 40 per cent out of 300 cases of cancer was made today by Dr. C. Everett Fields, of the radium institute of New York, before the Association for the Study and Cure of Cancer, meeting with the American Medical Association convention.

The formula, Dr. Fields said, was based on the theory that cancer is a germ disease. The formula, he said, had been worked out because the ray and radium and other previously known forms of treatment were inadequate.

MEMBERS OF HOUSE INVITED TO 'SHOALS' FOR VISIT BY ALMON

Latch String Is Always Out For The Sojourners He Tells Them

CONGRESSMAN TO RETURN HOME

Constituents Asked To Address Him At Tusculum

Edward B. Almon, congressman from the eighth district, will return to his home in Tusculum Wednesday from Washington, where he was successful in his fight to put the Ford offer through the house. He expects to remain in the district until congress meets again in December, and constituents desiring to communicate with him were requested to write him at Tusculum.

During the summer Mr. Almon expects to visit practically all sections of the district, getting in touch with the people of the eighth and he is scheduled to deliver several addresses before his return to the capital.

Members of the house were invited by Mr. Almon to come to North Alabama and see the government operations on the Tennessee river and to partake of real Southern hospitality. The Congressional Record gives the following account of a short address by Mr. Almon, extending the invitation:

Mr. Almon. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to proceed for three minutes.

The Speaker. Is there objection? There was no objection.

Mr. Almon. Mr. Speaker, friends and colleagues, I have asked for this three minutes' time just before the house adjourns to extend to each and every one of you a most cordial invitation to visit Muscle Shoals during the vacation. (Applause.) Come down and see the biggest dam and the largest munitions and fertilizer plant in the world. Come regardless of how you voted on the Ford offer. All that some of you know about southern hospitality and the beauty and charm of our southern women is what you have heard. Come down and get first-hand information; partake of our hospitality and see our beautiful women. Come and enjoy a real southern barbecue, watermelons, and such good things. (Applause.)

Some of you may be asked when you go back home about the Ford offer. Tell them that all other offers have been rejected. That two reports have been made by the Agricultural committee of the senate. One by Senator Norris, providing for Government operation of Muscle Shoals, and the other by Senator Ladd, favoring the acceptance of the Ford offer. A definite time, namely, December 3, has been set to take up, discuss, and dispose of this question. A clean-cut issue has now been made. That is, whether we shall have government operation as provided by the Norris amendment, or private operation by the acceptance of the Ford offer is provided in the McKenzie bill which passed the house by an overwhelming majority on the 10th of March. Get the reports and study them during vacation.

I not only want you to come to Muscle Shoals, but I want you to be a guest in my home when you come. The latchstring of the Almon home hangs on the outside. I want you all to come, but not at the same time. (Applause and laughter.)

STATE WINS FIRST SKIRMISH IN TRIAL OF 2 RICH YOUTHS

Formal Hearing Set For August Fourth By Justice Caverly

Venue Change Hinted By Darrow Who Says Prejudice Exists

(Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 11—State's Attorney Crowe today won his first skirmish for an early trial of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaires' sons and confessed kidnapers and slayers of Robert Franks, school boy son of another millionaire, when the trial was set for August 4.

Both boys pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Chief Justice Caverly, of the criminal court.

Mr. Crowe immediately demanded a speedy trial and asked that July 15 be fixed as the trial date. Attorneys Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachrach, of the defense, immediately objected. A hint that a change of venue might be asked later was seen in Attorney Darrow's remark in objecting for so early a date for trial, when he declared that there was no man in Chicago who would say the case had not been prejudiced.

MILLERAND QUILTS PLACE WHEN VOTE GOES AGAINST HIM

French President Has Resigned Office Of Chief Executive

Acting Ministry Yields Executive Power For Time Being

(Associated Press)
PARIS, June 11—President Millerand resigned today. The resignation of M. Millerand, which followed an adverse vote in the chamber of deputies yesterday, was contained in a letter addressed to the president of the senate and the president of the chamber. M. Millerand plans to issue a letter to the French nation in explanation of the circumstances as he views them, under which resignation was forced upon him.

The new parliamentary majority of the left has accomplished its announced object of forcing M. Millerand from the Elysee Palace.

The resignation was read before both houses of parliament this afternoon. Until the election of a new chief executive by a joint meeting of the chamber and senate Friday, the executive power will be yielded by the acting ministry under M. Francois Marsal.

M. Millerand is the sixth of the eleven presidents of the republic to leave office by resigning, but no previous case has the means of bringing this event about been so brusque.

No Hitch Marks Installation Of Party's Leaders

Chairman Mondell In A Short Address Sounds Again Coolidge Rallying Cry Amid Much Applause

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., June 11—President Coolidge probably will be asked before night by party leaders here for an expression of view respecting the Vice-presidential nomination.

Conference among the leaders during the forenoon developed little or no unanimous opinion and as one of those high in the councils of the party expressed it "we are ready to be bossed."

(Associated Press)
CONVENTION HALL, Cleveland, O., June 11—The republican convention came to order at 11 o'clock and went through more routine preliminaries today, while its platform committee was finally threshing out its differences and many leaders were closeted in hotels in conference over the still undetermined vice presidential situation.

The permanent organization, with Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, as permanent chairman, was duly installed without a hitch.

The convention rules were adopted and the official role of delegates perfected.

In a short address, Chairman Mondell repeated, amid cheers, the Coolidge rallying cry sounded yesterday by temporary Chairman Burton.

As on yesterday the convention gave its best vocal approval of a plea for majorities in congress, who will remain within the party when the roll is called in the senate and house.

The nomination for president and vice president will be made tomorrow. Who will have second place was as much undetermined as ever, despite all-night conferences, but the Hoover, Harbord and Curtis booms seemed, at least, to be holding their own in the lead of a large field.

Under a decision of party leaders, by which presentation of the platform to the republican convention will be deferred until tonight, the resolution committee took its time in considering the draft prepared by its sub-committee, at an all-night session.

Meeting behind closed doors the committee took up the platform draft plank by plank, and members said it might be several hours before final approval is given. Several changes were made at the start and there remained fights over the law and order planks, one dealing with the K. K. K. question as well as the prohibition enforcement provision.

Members of the senate farm bloc on the committee said the agriculture plank was satisfactory to them and that no question would be raised with respect to it.

R. B. Creagor, of Texas, announced he had not abandoned his determination to press for a clean cut expression against the K. K. K.

The republican convention, at another brief session today, perfected its permanent organization, cheered President Coolidge and party regularly and then recessed until eight o'clock tonight, when it will receive and adopt its platform.

While the session was in progress the platform committee was holding a heated meeting in a council room nearby, but when the time for receiving its report arrived, Charles H. Hillis, of New York, announced that it was not ready and moved for a recess until eight p. m.

A large proportion of the delegates did not want to recess and there were loud cries of "no" when the question was put. Chairman Mondell, however declared with a loud bang of the gavel that the "ayes" have it and the band took the proceeding in hand at that point and the delegates filed out.

Among other things in its short session, the convention in adopting its rules, approved a new arrangement by which women will have equal representation with men on the national committee.

Again, as at yesterday's session, there was a long and loud demonstra-

DATE FOR HEARING CITIZENS IS FIXED

At a meeting of the Albany city council last night, July 3 was fixed as the date on which citizens are to express their will concerning street improvement assessments, as made by the council lately, for paying on Seventh avenue, West, Sixth avenue West and Eighth avenue Central Albany.

June 27 was the day originally agreed upon for such expression as the citizens may make as to these assessments.

At the meeting a new set of resolutions were adopted descriptive of the property affected by the paving on the avenues named.

It was explained that where paving costs were agreed upon, that 6 per cent interest would be paid on assessments due as long as the assessments were paid as due, but that 8 per cent would be charged on all amounts not paid when they come due.

TANLAC BEST MEDICINE SAYS FT. WORTH LADY

Mrs. Riley Was Bothered With Headaches, Nervousness And Loss of Weight.

"Eighteen months ago, when I was so weak and run-down that I was flat of my back in bed, Tanlac ended my troubles and increased my weight ten pounds, and since then I have felt just as fine and healthy as I ever did in my life," is the striking statement of Mrs. B. Riley, 1304 Vernon Castle Blvd., Fort Worth, Texas.

"Tanalac is undoubtedly the best medicine in the world for a run-down condition. Three months before I began taking it, my appetite left me entirely and I couldn't find anything that tasted right and very little that I could digest. Then my nerves got to bothering me so much that I was unable to sleep at night and I suffered from headaches when it seemed that my head would almost burst. I kept going down hill until I had no strength to do anything and finally had to give up and take to my bed.

"One day my daughter persuaded me to give Tanlac a trial and it was simply wonderful how the medicine put me back on my feet. My appetite came to life with a vengeance and it just seemed that everything I ate tasted good and agreed with me. My nerves became as steady as a clock, I was able to sleep straight through the night and I soon gained such strength and energy that I could do all my housework without feeling a bit tired. The truth is, I felt like a new person in every way, just as I feel today, and I simply can't praise Tanlac enough. I wouldn't be without Tanlac in my home."

Tanalac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Memorial to Charles Frohman
Erected By English Friends.

LONDON—A memorial to Charles Frohman has been erected by a large group of his English friends at Marlow-on-Thames, the quaint little town which the late theatrical producer is said to have loved best in the world. The memorial is a drinking fountain of stone surmounted by a fine piece of sculpture by the artist, Leonard M. Merrifield.

The fountain has been placed opposite the town war memorial and overlooking the sleepy Thames as it passes the village. The site for the memorial was the gift of the town of Marlow.

Germans Invent "Tick Tick"

As New Form of Gambling
BERLIN—A new form of gambling has struck Germany. It is known as "tick tick" because watches and small clocks are used in this game of chance.

The bets are made on the time that the watch or clock will run down. The person guessing the minute or second nearest the exact time the hands cease to function takes the prize, which is a purse made up of all the bets on this particular watch minus a certain percentage for the "house."

Some of the games, operated in the rear of cigar stores and other nooks, have scores of watches running at the same time.

It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. A DAILY PRAYER—We ask Thee, to stay our sinful desires, purify our motives and help us to recognize Thy hand to guide, when with our mind's eye we cannot see the way.

What is to be thought of a party whose national convention has no other thrill than the picking of a Vice-presidential candidate?

When people say they stand for what the Bible does, and yet doubt the inspiration of that book, it looks like they doubted their own judgement.

Some are asking not to be considered candidates, when as a matter of fact there was never the slightest danger of such a thing.

Failure does not always mean inability to get what we ask; failure is quitting. Let the work for better roads be resumed.

There is a notable tendency among writers and speakers of the Tennessee Valley to urge forward to greater effort and closer cooperation among the people of the Valley, now that another waiting spell is on, before final disposition of Muscle Shoals is made by the solons at Washington. Such urging is commendable; and until the 85 per cent reserve energy said to be held in store by all individuals is used up, the urging should continue.

Indeed, we do have as many opportunities without Ford as with Ford. However, since no community lifts itself by the boot straps, the power of Ford or some other man "just as good" is badly needed to start the industrial load. And just as a Bible leader once rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem, his men using one hand to build with and the other to fight with, so should the people of this Valley continue to build, but with all their building, keep up the fight for the acceptance of the offer of Henry Ford to bring into practical use the vast power at Muscle Shoals. Let not sickness of heart cause doubting as to the righteousness and value of the Ford bid. He that doubteth is damned in any enterprise; and unfit for leading any great enterprise. Let us start the load, if possible, without the waiting for the aid or co-operation of Ford, especially since labor and effort are their own reward. The days of small things should not be despised; but also the days of large things and of great possibilities should be welcomed and fought for.

Ford can and doubtless would create more wealth at Muscle Shoals in a few years, than all the cooperative effort of others would create in long years. And the milk in the whole big cocoon of this Shoals matter, is that Ford will make more wealth at the Shoals than any one else. Just exactly where the wealth goes, to start with is of minor consideration, as the whole nation will benefit in the end.

By all means let us take every chance, but in the meantime—and it is a "mean" time waiting for a consummation that we should have had and could have had if some who are urging us on to harder work throughout the Valley had done better) let the fight be kept up for the acceptance of the Ford bid.

The provisions of the Ford bid for Muscle Shoals are plain and have always been plain to all who cared to read them with an open mind. But so much propaganda has been "put over" concerning the offer, that the public is often at a loss to determine just what Mr. Ford proposes to do at the Shoals. In this connection the official record of what the members of the Senate agricultural committee construe the offer to mean appears below:

1. He completes Dam No. 2 and builds Dam No. 3 as rapidly as possible at cost and without profit subject to the approval of the Chief of Engineers.

2. He leases both dams and manufactures commercial fertilizers in accordance with the demand, but he must produce annually at least the equivalent of 250,000 tons of Chilean nitrate, either mixed with other fertilizers (phosphoric acid or potash) or unmixed. This is enough for 2,000,000 tons of 2-8-2 fertilizer.

The present demand is for about three and one-half times as much phosphoric acid as nitrogen, and his obligation requires at least 257,000 horsepower continually throughout the year, or its equivalent, although the power dependable throughout the year at both dams is only 240,000 horsepower including the steam plants. He must improve some of the irregular and unreliable power that is available for only a part of the year in order to carry out his minimum obligations as to fertilizer. There would be only 326,000 dependable all-year horsepower after storage dams in the upper tributaries of the Tennessee River have been built.

Witnesses all agreed that the price of commercial fertilizers to the farmers can be reduced one-half at Muscle Shoals so Mr. Ford probably could not supply the entire demand, but he would have to do at Muscle Shoals to the extent of his reasonable ability. Possibly a ton of fertilizer may be produced with less power than is now required. Then Mr. Ford could supply a greater portion of the demand from Muscle Shoals than otherwise.

3. He agrees to a policy of regulation by the consumer through a board of nine voting members, seven from the three leading national farm organizations, nominated by the President by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, who inspect his books, limit his profits to not more than 8 per cent of the fair actual annual cost of production, and regulate the price and distribution of the fertilizer. Since it is left to these farmers to say what items are "fair" in the fertilizer operations, the entire scheme of manufacture is virtually placed in the hands of the consumers.

4. He maintains nitrate plant No. 2 or a better one ready for use by the Government in time of war for manufacturing of explosives.

5. He pays 4 per cent on the entire cost of completing Dam No. 2 and on the entire cost of building Dam No. 3 including dams, power houses, equipment and locks, except that during the preliminary years at Dam No. 2 and $160,000 per year for the first three years at Dam No. 3.

6. He provides for a sinking fund, which if invested in Federal farm loan bonds will return the Government more than $100,000,000 at the end of the 100-year lease. The Government in addition to its interest would receive far more than its entire capital investment in the dams, including $17,000,000 of war-time expenditure on Dam No. 2.

7. He pays $55,000 annually for maintenance and operation of the locks and dams which the Chief of Engineers agrees is sufficient for the purpose.

The responsibility for the maintenance of the dams, is left to the United States, but the government would not be required to rebuild the dams if they should be destroyed. He furnishes free power to operate the locks.

8. He researches improved methods of fertilizer manufacture at his own expense, employing such as are found to be successful, thus keeping the nitrate plant up to date.

9. As a cash payment in addition to the foregoing considerations, he pays $5,000,000 for nitrate plants No. 1 and No. 2, and their accessories. Plant No. 1 is admittedly unsuccessful and would require a prohibitive expenditure to make it operative, and all agree that plant No. 2 is obsolete and must be completely rebuilt.

10. In lieu of the Government's interest in the Gorgas steam plant (sold to the Alabama Power Company) only the amount received from that plant shall be used to construct a similar plant so as to retain the status of government properties existing when bids were asked.

The Senate received a report written by Senator Norris, relative to the Ford bid, with which all are familiar who read Mr. Norris' recent anti-Ford articles in the Saturday Evening Post. It is significant, that the agriculture majority makes no formal statement of what the Ford bid means; but it does attack every phase of the bid as understood by Senator Norris.

CROP ROTATION IS ONE ADVANTAGE OF ROAD SYSTEM

Ask the farmer, the real estate man or the "agriculturist" why the land close to the town brings more in dollars and cents than an equal quality of land, with equal buildings, barns and stock, for that matter with the same numbers of acres in a given community, or pigs, cows, vegetables, or strawberries, located several miles farther out. He will tell you it's worth more because it's closer in. The land isn't any more productive, it doesn't require any less labor nor effort nor seed. What's the answer? Get this, one reason is that there is a saving in hauling for the shorter distance, even though the same crops are raised, another, because it's nearer the center of population and facilities for shipping and handling. And there's another, and it makes a difference too, a farmer living close to town can busy himself with planting various things aside from the staple crops, which bring a higher price and thus get better returns for his labor. Supposing we had good roads extending in all directions from the towns, a farmer could live many miles from his trading center and still engage in growing a variety of vegetables and fruits. And he could produce them many months of the year and have a continuous income from that department of his farm. He could "diversify" and in so doing, scarcely a month in the year would roll round but what ready cash would be forthcoming.

There's another point in connection with this subject in this particular section of the country and that's the matter of dairying. With our present system of "right of ways" if a farmer does undertake to engage in dairying, it is quite evident he had better be located not over a couple of miles from town that is if he ever expects to get his milk, his butter fat, his cheese or his good old "home-made" butter into town every few days of the year. Consider the contrast for a single moment; if we had good smooth roads, always in a high state of maintenance and properly kept up, a farmer could locate his dairy 10 to 15 miles from his shipping center and in any sort of weather make the town, and rain or shine he could count on his weekly profit, in cash.

We want every farmer to engage in poultry, in dairying for certainly this is a mighty good country for dairying and it is indeed very profitable. No matter what profitable enterprises you engage in unless you can get your products to your trading and shipping center and under equitable and proper marketing conditions make disposition of them, your efforts will all have been in vain, and you're never going to attain the maximum of good people.

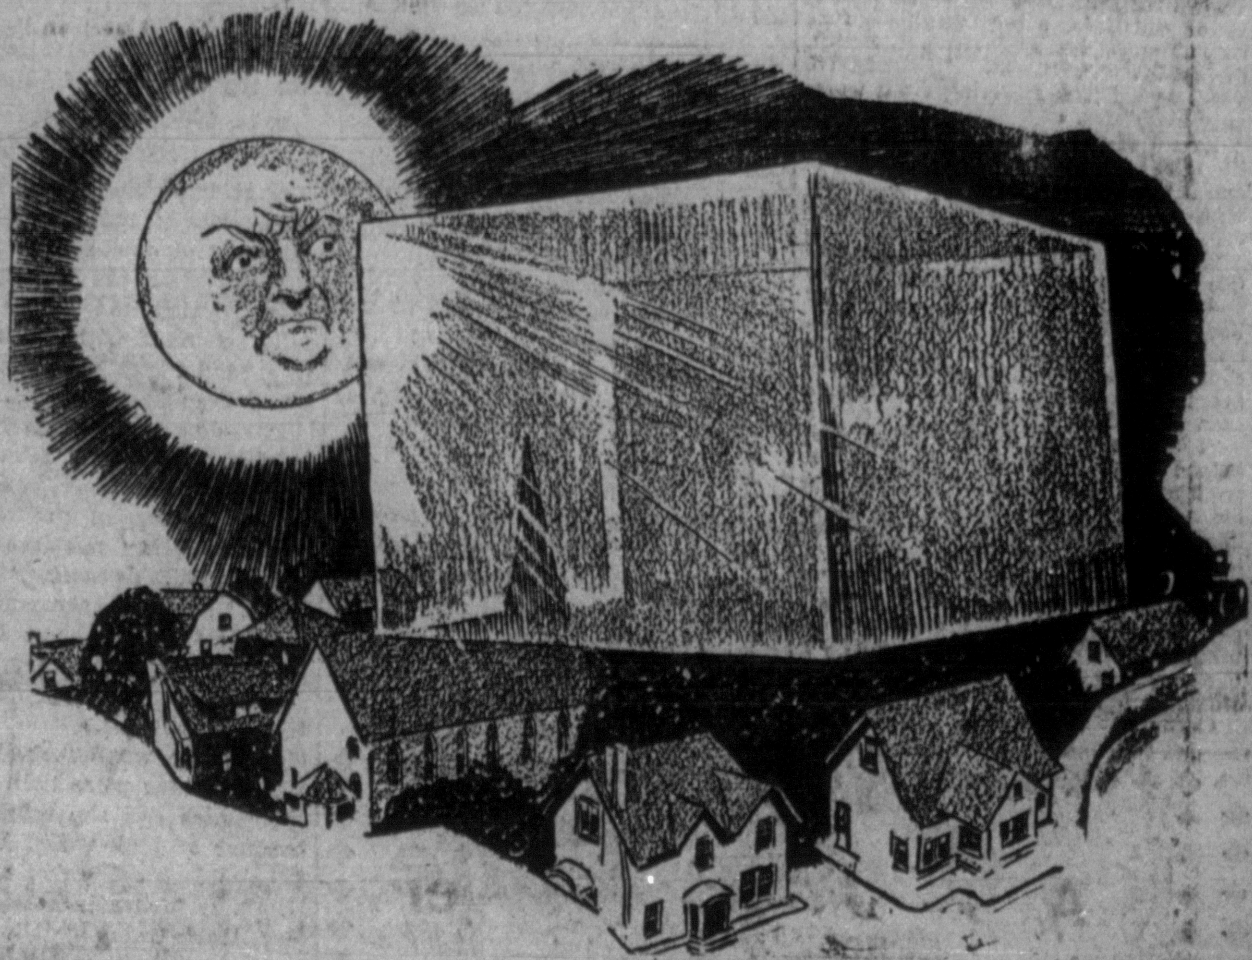

to which you are entitled until you get good roads.

Good roads extend, to a very marked degree, that area in which high-priced commodities may be grown and continuously and successfully marketed, and that area is also the area of your valuable land.

You read the want ads, so do other people.

CONFINED TO BED

Birmingham Lady Took Cardui for Relief of Change of Life Troubles and Says It Helped Her "So Much."

Birmingham, Ala.—"I first took Cardui for that tired, worn-out feeling that comes from being dreadfully run-down," says Mrs. Catherine E. Smith, of 2166 Stout Street. "Twenty-five years ago, I was suffering from womanly weakness. I read of Cardui in an almanac, and thought I would try it. I got a bottle and it helped me from the first. After that, during the whole of my married life, I took Cardui when I needed it. "About four years ago, change of life came on me. I grew weaker and weaker, and was confined to my bed, where I lay on my back for days. I was told that only a severe operation could do me any good, and this depressed me very much, for I dreaded such an ordeal. "I remembered how Cardui had helped me for female trouble in the past and I had read of how it had helped other women during change of life, so one night I told my husband to go to the drug store and get me a bottle. I began taking it at once. From the first dose I could feel myself getting stronger. I continued to take Cardui until I was entirely through this very trying period of a woman's life." Agricultural Expert in Spain

Urges Films to Help Farmers
MADRID—An appropriation for educational farming films is sought by Jose Luis de la Roma one of Spain's leading agricultural experts, as an aid to the agricultural development of the country. He points out that much has been done in other countries in this direction, while here it has been neglected in spite of the fact that agriculture is the principal industry of Spain.

Senor de la Roma urges that the most modern methods of all branches of farming and breeding, butter and cheese making, irrigation and scientific fertilization, be shown by films throughout the land and argues that such a campaign would inculcate love of country in farm youth and check the immigration to industrial centers.

STICKNEY-SPEAKE.

A beautiful event of this morning was the wedding of Miss Carolee Speake to Captain Louis Simmons Stickney, U. S. A. which was solemnized at ten o'clock with Rev. James D. Wallace of the First Presbyterian church pronouncing the nuptial vows. It took place in the First Presbyterian church which was simply and tastefully decorated with Dorothy Perkins roses and sweet peas, intermingled with ferns and evergreens.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Alice Hutton rendered a beautiful violin solo, "To a Wild Rose," and Mrs. John Cooper Adams, of Fort Sill, Okla., who is visiting relatives here, sang in her inimitable manner "I Love You Truly." They were accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Lableen Kinney who also played. Lohengrin's wedding march to the strains of which the bridal party entered.

The bride was unusually pretty in a suit of blue poire twill with brown accessories and she carried a brides bouquet of pink roses. Her brother, Charles Lewis Speake, of Charlotte, N. C., gave her in marriage. Miss Margaret Speake, a sister, was maid of honor and she was becomingly attired in pink georgette and her arm bouquet was of pink roses. Neal McCalla Speake attended the groom as best man. Arthur Jones and Frank Lide, ushered the large number of friends who witnessed the wedding.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left by motor for Camp Vall, N. J., where the groom is now stationed.

The bride was one of the attractive daughters of the late Judge D. W. Speake, Judge of the Eighth Judicial Circuit of Alabama, Captain Stickney was among those who served on the Mexican border in 1916 and in the World's War in France and also in the Army of Occupation in Germany.

The church was beautifully decorated, a color scheme of white, green and orange being carried out, specimen magnolia blossoms predominating. Before the wedding party entered, Mrs. A. A. Hardage sang "Because" and Mrs. Frank Morrow rendered a vocal solo "O Promise Me," Mrs. George Jackson presided at the organ and to the peals of the wedding march the ushers, Oscar Morrow, James Howard and Thomas Brooks, led the bridal party down the aisle. The bridesmaids, came next in single file as follows: Miss Imogene Winton, lovely in peach georgette with peach picture hat; Miss Kalene Day wearing a pretty orchid georgette with hat to match; Miss Irene Sheets also in orchid georgette with a picture hat, and they all carried arm bouquets of sweet peas. The maid of honor, Miss Wilma Ross wore a rose georgette with harmonizing hat and Mrs. Rex Winton, matron of honor was pretty in green georgette beaded in crystal and a picture hat of green, and their bouquets were sweetheart roses. The groom was attended by Guy Thompson. Her other accessories were of platinum and she carried a shower of water lilies. It is interesting to know that her lace handkerchief was an heirloom of her mother's family and it was over one hundred years old. Little Miss Dorothy Morrow, sister of the bride just preceded her down the aisle scattering rose petals and she wore a dainty white crepe de chene.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheets left soon after the ceremony for Nashville, Mammoth Cave, Ky., and points in Virginia making the trip in a car which was the bridal gift of the groom to the bride.

Amusements

What the Press Agents Say

Abounding with funny situations, tuneful music sparkling dances, that's the best way to describe "My Monte Carlo Girl," the musical farce that will be presented at the Princess theater today and tomorrow by the popular "Billy" Wehle players. Roy Hughes will be seen in one of his best roles, while "Billy" (say's which) Wehle will be seen in a character that is said to be one of his best. Ricca Hughes will play the soubrette role, while Pansy Williams will handle the title role in the same capable manner that has made her so popular with Princess audiences. Walter Deering will play the leading male part, while the Moss Brothers will also have responsible roles. The Garden Trio will be heard in several new harmony selections, and the fast stepping "There she goes" chorus will sing and dance their way to more applause. A beautiful opening by the entire company is another feature in "My Monte Carlo Girl."

"Billy" Wehle, with the able assistance of Roy and Ricca Hughes and the entire "There she goes" company has won a warm spot in the hearts of Albany and Decatur audiences presenting the best of musical comedy productions and with the fine picture that is also presented with each change of program is giving local theater goers a run for their money.

If the future performances presented by this popular company of fund-siders are as good as the past, there is no reason why "Billy" Wehle and his company should not stay at the Princess the greater part of the summer. Local amusement seekers appreciate a good show and the Princess is certainly giving them one at present. David Belasco's famous picture "The Gold Diggers" will be presented today and tomorrow in conjunction with the showing of "My Monte Carlo Girl" with a matinee daily.

It has come to be a proverb among the stage folk and theater-goers that a David Belasco play must be a great success. The name and the genius of this great playwright are enough to insure the success of any play he puts out. "The Gold Diggers," one of his recent successes which played for two years in Broadway and had a long tour of the country will come in screen form to the Princess theater today with Hope Hampton in the feature role. It is a Warner Brothers classic of the screen.

W. J. Bryan Declares Bible Is Best Guide for Erring Humanity

MINNEAPOLIS—Calling upon Christians to get their inspiration from the Bible, which has been proven by its indestructibility and which has outlived its critics, William Jennings Bryan delivered the principal address at the opening session of the sixth annual convention of the World's Christian Fundamentals Association here. His topic was "It Is Written."

"We have a Bible that treats of just one thing and that is man in his relation to God," Mr. Bryan declared. "It commences with the beginning and follows man down as far as Bible times go and projects him into the future as long as man lives on the earth and tells him all that he needs to know."

Mr. Bryan urged that more knowledge of the Scriptures be attained by Christians, so that scripture may be quoted and all questions met with "It is written," as Christ did.

"The difference between the Christians who say 'It is written' and those who call themselves Christians and do not say it, is that when a man is led of the Spirit he quotes the scripture. When one is directed by his own inflated opinion of himself, he tries to answer without quoting, but when led by the Spirit, he knows nothing better than the Bible."

Mr. Bryan paid his respects to the "modernists" of the denomination and challenged several of their contentions, including the question of the virgin birth of Christ and the "proof of miracles."

"Christians," the speaker said, "we are at a time just now when we need to answer the criticisms that come from the modernists and infidels, and there is no better answer to make than 'It is written.' If that answer will not suffice, no answer will. This brings us to the beginning of the controversy, 'Is the Bible the Word of God? Christ quoted it because it was true. Here is the testimony of the Saviour Himself that the Bible is true, for Christ would not have quoted it if it were not true.' The Bible, he said, has outlived its critics, and we go back to it for our statute laws.

"I wish we had more people like Moses now, to write our laws," Mr. Bryan continued. "Moses wrote some commandments with just four words in them. There are five commandments in twenty-three words and Christ condensed them into seven: 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' If God would give us lawyers like Moses instead of lawyers such as we have it would not take volumes to contain laws and then take the courts years to find out what the lawyers meant."

Taking up the controversy which has raged about Christ's birth, Mr. Bryan said:

"They dispute the Deity of Christ. The Book is full of proof. Christ, if He lived, was the Son of God. They are trying a bishop for heresy in the north now. He says that Christ was in the same class as Lincoln and Washington and he is not sure that Christ ever did live. This is where he comes out. When you leave the Bible and start down, there is not a station between the starting point and no-god land."

The man who does not believe in the virgin birth, he said, does not believe in any miracle, "and yet there is nothing stated more clearly in the Bible than the virgin birth." Luke and Matthew both said he was born of a virgin, Mr. Bryan continued, and "no body in the Bible denies it and there is no evidence to bring against it. There is nothing more mysterious about the birth of Christ than about the birth of anyone else."

A Ton of Freight Moved A Mile for Less Than a Postage Stamp

Large figures are, as a rule, bewildering to the public, but the statistics recently issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the freight operations of the American railroads during 1923, present some easy-to-understand and very significant comparisons.

These figures show that the average revenue received by the American railroads for hauling one ton of freight one mile during 1923, was 1.116c, as compared with 1.176c in 1922 and 1.253c in 1921. The average for 1921 was the highest in recent years; but since then there have been substantial reductions in rates. As compared with 1921, the average rate paid in 1922 represented a reduction of 5%; and that paid in 1923, a reduction of about 11.6%.

These are small figures when applied to one ton of freight, but when multiplied by 413,562,132,100 ton-miles of freight handled by the railroads last year, the slight reduction per ton-mile makes an appreciable showing. In fact, the aggregate saving in the freight bill of the shipping public since January 1922 has been more than $1,000,000,000.

Think of the figures quoted above—one ton of freight was hauled during 1923 by the American railroads for one mile at a cost of a little over 1c. Figured in terms of an every-day commodity, this represents the movement of 800 pairs of shoes one mile; the actual carrying charges per pair being so ridiculously small as to have no effect whatever on the retail selling price.

Does this indicate that freight rates are too high?

FORTUNE TELLING FAKIRS CAUSE SUICIDE IN MUNICH

MUNICH—An avalanche of fortune tellers and fakirs of every description has descended upon the Bavarian capital. The Munich police already have a record of over 300 such professional soothsayers, and are watching them closely. Their methods are varied, some using playing cards, others coffee grounds, still others, astrological tables for humbugging the ignorant. The police might be inclined to view these fakirs as harmless except for the fact that their forecasts have led to divorces, suicides, and family disagreements. In one family recently the daughter of the house poisoned herself because of an unfavorable astrological horoscope furnished her by a soothsayer, and her brother, driven frantic by a similar prediction, cut his veins.

In another case a girl was told that she would not be able to marry her betrothed until four years later. She shot herself and left a note to the effect that she could not bear the thought of having to wait so long. In a third case a couple became divorced because the wife was told by a fortune teller that she would be murdered in case she went to the Balkans with her husband.

BEFORE AND AFTER FRANKS' MURDER CONFESSION.

Plan House Of Rest In Sunny Italy For Sick Brain Workers

BERLIN—An international home for spiritual workers is to be established at Rome if the plans of Dr. Noemi Stricker, a French physician living in Berlin, are fulfilled. Mrs. Stricker is carrying on a vast correspondence with intellectuals and "workers of the spirit" for this purpose, and already holds letters of approval from Jane Addams of Chicago, David Starr Jordan of California, Roman Rolland of France, Stephen Zweig of Austria, Arthur Nikisch of Germany, Mrs. Philip Snowden of England, Rabindranath Tagore of India, Dr. Aletta Jacobs of Holland, Maxim Gorky of Russia, Professor Auguste Forel of Switzerland, and scores of other men and women of learning.

"We hope that the international house of rest will become a center of brotherly understanding and of reconciliation," Dr. Stricker said in discussing her plans. "Intellectual workers and workers of the spirit need leisure and time, and the calm of a simple life. We hope to receive into the proposed house sick people to whom one or several winters spent in the south can restore health. How many incipient diseases of the lungs might be healed in this way! How many fine intellects might be saved! Brain workers also need the beauty of nature, the beauty which calms and justifies. Often the regeneration of soul and spirit will be accomplished more quickly in unaccustomed places and surroundings. We hope such a house of rest located in sunny Italy will supply just these requisites."

The work of collecting funds for the project has not yet begun, nor have concrete plans been mapped out. Dr. Stricker is so taken up with the task of collecting money for starving German intellectuals that she must limit herself for the present to gathering the opinions of intellectuals in various parts of the world for the project. It was her insight as a physician into the plight of brain workers in Germany that led her to conceive the plan of an international house of rest. Dr. Stricker states that she is in touch with a prominent savant in Rome who has agreed to put the scheme through as soon as it is perfected.

WILD DOGS ARE MENACE TO SHEEP IN AUSTRALIA

MELBOURNE—The menace of the packs of wild dogs that roam the Omeo Plains and tear out the throats of sheep was described today to the Victorian minister for lands.

A deputation from the Gippsland Shires and Development Association asked the minister for an increased subsidy to facilitate the destruction of the dogs. The minister promised that the government would do all it could to help the settlers.

Councillor Braid of Omeo Shire explained that sheep dogs had been trained from the homesteads by female dingoes (prairie wolves). These dogs had crossed with the dingoes, producing a strain that proved a greater menace to sheep than the pure dingoes, because of the mongrel's knowledge of the ways of men and sheep. One settler had lost 350 out of 700 sheep.

Czechs Seize Radio Sets

PRAGUE—In spite of the onerous regulations thrown around it by the government, radio is making progress in Czechoslovakia. Recently 4,000 private sets were seized for failure of the owners to meet the official requirements for their possession and use. It is understood, however, they will be restored if certain conditions are fulfilled.

AMERICAN BROAD JUMPER

HOPES TO SHATTER RECORD

ANN ARBOR, Mich.,—DeHart Hubbard, prospective leader of the United States' squad of broad jumpers in the Olympic games, has as his greatest ambition the breaking of the world's record of 25 feet 3 inches, held by E. O. Gourdin, former Harvard star. Next to that, this year, he cherishes the ambition to go through the season with a record of 24 feet or better in each of the meets in which he takes part. He had maintained this pace up to the Western Conference meet.

The 44-year records of the A. A. U. championship meets show but three jumps of more than 24 feet, two of them made by Hubbard himself. The records of the Olympic games show but two jumps over 24 feet, one by Meyer Prinstein and the other by Irons in 1908, when he made 24 feet 6 1-2 inches. The accepted world's record did not reach the point Hubbard set for himself as a weekly mark until Kraenzlein made 24 feet 4 1-2 inches in 1899. Prinstein, O'Connor of Ireland and Gourdin have made successive new marks.

Hubbard commenced his 24-foot jumps this year in the Illinois Indoor relays, when he made 24 feet 7 inches. Lack of authentic indoor records allow Hubbard's friends to claim this as a world's indoor record. In his outdoor work he has jumped from 24 feet 2 3-4 inches, his record in the Drake relays, to 25 feet 2 5-8 inches, in an exhibition jump at the Ohio relays.

To better, if possible, his jumping ability, Coach Steve Farrell of Michigan has been working Hubbard as a sprinter since the middle of the track season.
